

Good Morning!!!

Today's service is slightly extended by way of inclusion of the Dedication of the Lectern Bible. You may notice that the song sheet is also in an extended format with a larger font, four hymns and space for some notices while still in the A5 format. For those who benefit from a high contrast version that is still available but in the A5 format. As we go forward this may help enhance the patterns of worship for Sunday mornings.

My thanks to all who volunteered for Door Duties which we should be able to commence next Sunday 1st March. Sandra our Session Clerk will be distributing rotas today. I invite all who are taking on this role to join me on Thursday 26th Feb at 1.30pm in a small hall for a short meeting and opportunity to ask questions.

A new meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) will be meeting in a small hall on Wednesday evenings from 6.15pm to 7.30pm commencing on 25th Feb. The meeting is being called "Catch the Buzz" and is intended to be a "Big Book" meeting rather than a crisis intervention meeting. We are glad to make the AA welcome in our halls.

Those who are in the way of attending or participating in the World Day of Prayer Service may wish to add the date of this year's service to your diary Friday 6th March.

Church Family News

In this incoming week we have two funeral services taking place from our church
On Friday 27th Feb at 1pm a service takes place for Mrs Agnes Johnston who passed away on 1st Feb aged 89 years. The church service is followed by a graveside service at Philipshill Cemetery at 2pm

On Saturday 28th Feb we hold the service for Eric Brown commencing at 9am within the Sanctuary then to South Lanarkshire Crematorium for 10am.

We continue to uphold families in our prayers.

As the furnishing in the sanctuary requires to be arranged for these services there is an opportunity for those more able bodied to help out. If you have available time at 7.30pm on the evening of Thursday 26th Feb we'll be glad of your help to move tables and chairs within the sanctuary. For those familiar with this process please hold back if you arrive early. We really don't want folk arriving to find that all the work is already done.

These meetings can be found on the calendar / What's On section of the church website.
